

When shall I have the divine grace of Radha!

Written by: SriSri Prabhu Jagadbandhu

Translated from a famous Bengali Song,
written by Prabhu Jagadbandhu himself,
that outlined his fathomless desire to go to Vrindabana
to be united with Radha and Krishna in his mental ecstasy!

When shall I have the divine grace of Radha
to bless me to go to Vrindabana!

When shall I be able to put and carry the dusts
of the roads, (of Vrindabana!) sanctified by the footsteps
of the Gopis, on my head!

When shall I go out on assignation with Krishna's confidantes!
When shall I be able to behold the union of Radha and Krishna!

When shall I be able to cool off the modesty vest of Radha
by my hand-blown fan,
only in our dual presence!

When shall I be able to satiate my life beholding Radha
only in our dual presence!

When shall I be able to circle around Radha
singing sankirtana (song of utmost glory) in Her praise
only in our dual presence!

When shall Rai (Radha) touch Jagadbandhu's head
with Her divine and sanctified feet!

When shall I be able to surrender my entire existence
towards Radha and Krishna!
